

Pricing & Booking

How do I reserve you for a photo shooting?

As soon as we have decided on a date and time for your event you can pay the required deposit and you will be officially booked!

How high is the deposit? When is the remainder due?

For weddings the deposit to confirm your booking is 30 percent of the full package price (for bookings over 12 months in advance 50 percent). The remainder is due four weeks before the wedding takes place.

For portrait session the session fee / deposit is due at the time of your booking. The remainder is due one week before we meet. This way we don't have to think about the remainder anymore and can fully concentrate on the session.

Which forms of payments do accept?

For easy payment of your deposit and package we offer a comfortable online payment option. All major credit and debit cards are accepted. If you prefer PayPal or email transfers are available.

What is the difference between a Pay-per-print and an all-inclusive Digital Combo?

If you decide to go with our Pay-per-print packages, than you pay directly for the time needed to take the photos in the form of a session fee. Once the images are ready for you can decide then on an individual base which images you like the best and only buy the digital files or prints you are interested in. This approach is best for people who are not yet sure how many images you are going to want and order pictures over time.

With the All-inclusive-digital combo you get full access to all the high resolution digital files right away and you print them with your preferred provider as you go. There is no additional cost after the session is finished. This option is best for clients who just love our photos and know they want to enjoy the full collection of their images later on. If you plan to order a lot of photos it also tends to be more economic.

If we cancel our booking will we receive our deposit back?

In case you cancel you will not receive your deposit back. This covers any loss in the form of lost bookings and eventual cost already arisen before the actual session. However, we understand that unforeseen events can happen, so we try to work on alternatives if possible – e.g. find a new date for a session.

I have a lot of time in between the events of my wedding day; will I be charged for this time?

The prices for our packages are set for consecutive hours of photography. This includes travel time in between locations, set up time, and any down time that presents itself with in the day due to the event timeline. We will use as much of the available time to get shots of the details and surrounding areas of your event. Otherwise we will be available and ready to go when you are.

Do you charge for travel?

We want to keep it simple for you, so for most sessions there are no travel fees. In most cases for wedding packages travel costs are included, for smaller session we normally charge travel fee if our travel time exceeds 50 km's (one way). We will make sure that in case there would be costs due to travelling, that we point it out right away so you consider it in your budgeting.

Do you travel to meet clients?

If possible we try to arrange in person meetings (especially for weddings) within reasonable limits. If it shouldn't be possible due to scheduling or distance we love to video chat with you.

Which additional cost might occur?

Most of our packages come with the option to receive digital files, so in this case there is no additional cost after the payment of the package. If you choose pay per print packages the final cost will depend on your selection.

For weddings all outside fees, for example coordinator and venue commission, permits or any other third party cost have to be covered by the client.

Do you have Liability Insurance?

Yes we do! If your venue requires special details we are happy to provide them. Just let us know.
